

RALLY FOR GOOD ROADS

HELD IN CHARLESTON PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS.

Orangeburg Had the Largest Number of Cars in the Run, With Columbia Second.

At an enthusiastic and largely attended meeting in Charleston Tuesday the Good Roads and Drainage League of South Carolina was organized and an illuminating discussion of the subject closest to the hearts of the delegates indulged in at the Commercial Club. Sixteen counties were represented at the rally, with over two hundred delegates present.

The meeting was made noteworthy by several pertinent addresses, among which was one by D. H. Winslow, a government roads expert now in South Carolina to help blaze the way for improved highways.

Orangeburg had the honor of winning the trophy cup offered for the largest number of automobiles going into Charleston for the convention with 36 machines in good condition, while Columbia, which also entered the contest, came second with nine cars. Col. W. G. Smith, of Orangeburg, presided over the convention. The following officers were elected for the league: President, Col. James Cosgrove of Charleston; vice-president, C. W. Moore, of Columbia; secretary to act as treasurer, E. I. Readon, of Sumter.

Hon. Samuel Dibble, of Orangeburg, is chairman of the executive committee of the league. The committee is composed of one member from each county represented at the meeting.

Col. Cosgrove, chairman of the Charleston county rally committee, called the convention to order at about 10:30, and addressed the meeting in a hearty way. Temporary officers were then elected and the organization perfected.

Mayor Pro Tem Wilson G. Harvey who is also president of the Charleston Automobile Club extended an official welcome to the delegates. He made a facetious address, but was serious in his warm welcome to the visitors, declaring that as a matter of fact no South Carolina citizen needed to be welcomed to Charleston, which he considered his home, as the metropolis of South Carolina. He promised entertainment for the delegates, and assured them that every home in the city was open to them.

County supervisors were then heard from, or their representatives, and the following spoke, all pointing out more or less advance in good road work and a tendency to revolutionize the former bad condition by renewed and intelligent effort in the past two years. Mr. Felder of Orangeburg, who has done wonders with his own; Mr. Reardon of Sumter, reporting 115 miles of clay and sand road, with recent authorization of $50,000 of good roads bonds; Mr. Rembert of Richland, where good roads has been a slogan; Mr. Husbands of Florence, a centre of good roads interest; Col. Grosgrrove of Charleston; Mr. Graham of Williamsburg; Supervisor Johnson of Georgetown, where efforts are being made to open the old stage roads that connected Washington and Charleston years ago and where he has worked for improved roads for the last six years; Mr. Griffin of Colleton; Mr. Lybrand of Lexington, and Mr. Gyles of Aiken; were all heard to advantage.

At noon a recess of ten minutes was taken and the delegates took opportunity to register. The committee on resolutions reported, upon a resumption of the business of the day, and reported the writing of a constitution and by laws and also the adoption of a resolution looking to helping good roads legislation. Both were adopted by a unanimous vote.

The following are the owners of the thirty six machines from Orangeburg.

TALKS ON GOOD ROADS.

Mr. Winslow Makes a Strong Speech in Their Favor.

Mr. D. H. Winslow, government road expert, who is making a tour of the State in the Columbia Record's good roads movement, made a short talk at the court house on Monday morning. His audience was small because of the preparations being made by many of our people for the automobile trip to Charleston that morning.

Mr. Wardlaw Moorman, of Columbia, accompanies Mr. Winslow in a big automobile highly bedecked with flags, good roads labels, under the auspices of the Columbia Record. Mr. Moorman, in a few appropriate remarks, introduced the speaker who received marked attention.

Mr. Winslow gave many facts and figures to prove that the outlay for good roads is the best investment that the farmers and merchant can make. He gave detailed methods for making sand-clay roads on the proper preparations. He cited an illustration where one farmer in Alabama offered to build six miles of road in an adjoining county, but the latter refused on account of loss of trade.

He urged a good roads organization in every county. Mr. Winslow said he wished it distinctly understood that his business, for once, was strictly bereft of any political feature. It was a pity that more people were not present to hear this excellent address. It is the very kind of talk the people need. Good schools and good roads to make them of easy access to the children are our greatest needs.

The Columbia Record in sending Messrs. Winslow and Moorman over the state to preach good roads is doing a great work for the people, and we congratulate it on the great good it is doing, and commend Messrs. Winslow and Moorman to the people of every community in South Carolina. We regret that the party came to Orangeburg at a time when so many of our people were busy meeting other engagements.

WILL NOT DO.

Railroad Commission Refuses Plan for Branchville Depot.

The railroad commission has refused to accept the Southern Railway's plans for the Branchville passenger station enlargement. At the last session of the Legislature there was passed an Act providing for the erection of a new freight depot and calling for either a reconstructing of the present passenger station or the building of a new one.

The plans for the enlargement of the passenger depot were submitted to the commission for approval and also for the city council's approval. When the plans were submitted to the commission a few days ago there was held at Branchville a meeting and the commission decided that the plans were inadequate. The commission has not yet decided as to the freight depot plans. It was stated at the office of the railroad commission in Columbia that the freight plans appear to be very nice. The city council also refused to approve the passenger station plans.

MR. AXSON DEAD.

Old and Respected Citizen of North Passes Away.

Mr. William A. Axson, a Christian gentleman and civil war veteran was laid to rest with Masonic honors, in the family burying ground near his home, July 8th, 1910. He was in his 78th year, having celebrated his 77th birthday on May 1. He was sick only five days with fever, but neither medical science nor tender care could stay the life that had more than lived its promised allotment. Surrounded by loved ones his frail bark glided swiftly, peacefully down the stream of death.

His pastor, Rev. Mr. Taylor, assisted by Rev. B. R. Tarrant, conducted the funeral services at his home before interment. After which the Masons took the body of their deceased brother and in a beautiful ceremony returned it to mother earth. For fifty years Mr. Axson had been a Mason. At the time of his death he belonged to the North Lodge, No. 119.

A Mason for fifty years, a member of the M. E. Church sixty, and a faithful attendant of each; surely this was a record. He leaves eight sons and daughters and a large number of grandchildren to mourn his memory. But they mourn not as those who have no hope for blessed are they who die in the Lord.

WOMEN'S BEAUTY.

Imperfect Digestion Causes Bad Complexion and Dull Eyes.

The color in your cheeks won't fade, the brightness in your eye won't vanish, if you keep your stomach in good condition.

This was the advice of a prominent physician to a woman's club in Boston and it is good advice.

Beitching of gas, heaviness, sour taste in mouth, dizziness, biliousness and nausea occur simply because the stomach is not properly digesting the food.

The blood needs nourishment to carry vigor, vim and vitality to every part of the body and when food ferments in the stomach enough nourishment is not supplied.

Miona stomach tablets give instant relief to upset stomachs, but they do more; they put strength into the stomach and build it up so that it can easily digest a hearty meal without giving its owner hours of misery.

Miona is sold by druggists everywhere and by J. G. Wannamaker Mfg. Co., at 50 cents a large box. It is guaranteed to cure indigestion or any stomach distress or money back.
